While the grand ultimate aim of the Common School System is to Educate the Children of the State, yet, before that end can be achieved, there are innumerable details of Business to be attended to, and he who furnishes an improved method of managing the Official Business of a School Board, or of keeping its Financial Accounts, renders as true a service to the cause of Education, as he who furnishes an improved Text Book in Science.

PUBLISHERS' PREFACE.

The idea of preparing and publishing a Series of Books and Blanks for the use of Teachers and School Officers, by which their Records can be easily, correctly and permanently kept, originated with Mr. Adams more than twelve years ago, not simply for the purpose of publishing SOMETHING TO SELL, but from the necessities of the School-room, and the absolute wants of School and Township Officers.

He is a practical educator, and for a number of years was Principal of several of the prominent Public Schools in the State of Illinois. While thus engaged he prepared his first books, and they were first published by himself in the year 1861. No other books of this kind have ever gained such popularity. They are now used almost universally in the States of Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Missouri, Kansas, Texas, Louisiana, the District of Columbia, and to some extent in Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia, and Alabama, and the demand is still increasing; but this increasing demand calls for something better and more perfect than anything yet published. The Author has prepared therefore an entirely NEW SERIES, of which this book is a part, more complete and perfect, better adapted to the wants of Teachers and School Officers than any heretofore issued.

This New Series is published by the undersigned, Oliver Adams & Co., Chicago, Illinois, and, in order to avoid confounding it with his Old Series, the Author has entitled it "ADAMS' UNION SERIES" OF SCHOOL AND TOWNSHIP RECORDS.

In presenting these books and blanks to Teachers and School Officers, it is proper to state the plan upon which they have been prepared: 1. The Author has avoided the mistakes and defects which use and experience show existed and still exist in his Old Series.

2. He has adopted the forms prescribed in the law, and, as far as possible, incorporated the exact words of the statute, so that in form and phraseology they are strictly legal.

3. In nearly all the forms contained in the Books and Blanks, constituting this New Series, he has quoted the law under which each form has been made, giving the volume, page, chapter, and section of the statute,—and in numerous instances, he has quoted from the Decisions of State Superintendents of Public Instruction and of Supreme Courts as authorities for the forms given,—so that these books are not only convenient Records, but books of legal reference as well, thereby furnishing to Teachers and School Officers the highest authority for keeping their records according to this system.

The citation of authorities, however, under which the forms have been made, is not so great as the author had designed, the forms necessarily included, not only in this volume, but in all the books comprising this series, denying the requisite space; but we hope a sufficient number have been cited to indicate that it is the duty of Teachers and School and Township Officers to keep these Records and make all the entries suggested by the forms and instructions contained therein.
